What the "Church Union" Says.

What the "Church Union" Says. President Brewer and officers of the Washington Life may pride themselves or Washington Life may pride themselves on the success which has attended their company during the twenty-live years of its existence. Judicious management, carefully invested funds, which have turned as it were, into gold. From the official report of January last we find the company to be possessed of assets of the best character, amounting to $7,304,009.84, with Habilities to policy-holders of $5,374,141.01, leaving a surplus as regards policy-holders of $530,708.23. Equity Covar—Justice Haguer.—Fitzmorris vs. Graham et al.; pro confesso against certain defendants ordered, and appearance of absent defenda For twenty-live years this life company has been before the public, and it has never failed in the faithful performance of what it agrees to do in issuing a policy on the life of the policy-holder. The Washington furnishes life insurance at a price but little more than the actual net cost of the insurance. The Washington has a good paying and increasing business on its books, it is managed with strict economy and consummate skill and vigor, it has a liratylass position in the life insurance world, and that position will be continually increasing to a still more prominent one. Such are a few facts of the financial condition of the Washington Life, which we wish to lay before our readers. The officers of the company are W. A. Brewer, ir. Fresident, W. Haxtun, Vice-President, E. S. Fronch, Superintendent of Agencies; James E. Waugh, General Agent.

As was expected, Congregational Church was filled long before the opening hour with an andlence which never misses an opportunity of hearing this famous orchestra. The programme, with the exception of Beethoven's "Erotea" symphony, was made up of popular music, and the whole was thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Juch proved lerself one of the most charming concert sopranes that has ever visited this city. Her voice is of wonderful compass and power, while her tones are mellow and rich. Her phrasing is intelligent and impressive and she was enthusiastically received. As an encore to her second number, Gomod-The Thomas Concert.

she was enthusiastically received. As an exceed to her second number, Gothod-Bach's "Ave Maria," she sang Rubinstein's "Du tist wiceine Blume."

The programme for to-night will include an overture by Brahus, a Schumann symphony, a scherzo by Dvorak, quartet by Schukett, a tarantelle for flute and clarionette by Schikett, a tarantelle for flute and clarionette by Schikets seens and the "Bal Scene" from Berlies's "Romeo and Juliet." Mrs. Annie Louise Powell, the popular contralto of this city, will appear in two numbers, "Che faro," an aria by Gluck, and Coombs' "Redouin Love Song." The programme is in all respects equal to the one of last night and will no doubt draw an equally crowded house.
